

wire 2014 and Tube 2014:

Leading global trade fairs to held in Düsseldorf again from 7 to 11 April

The two leading global trade fairs wire, International Trade Fair for Wire and Cable, and Tube, International Tube Trade Fair, can look back on a successful edition in 2012 announcing outstanding exhibitor numbers, increased exhibition space and an overall very positive mood.

Now the new trade fair dates have been established for 2014: From 7 to 11 April 2014 the key players in the wire, cable and tube processing industries will meet again at the Düsseldorf Exhibition Centre to present the technology highlights from their respective sectors.

On display at wire 2014 will be state-of-the-art machinery, plants and equipment used for manufacturing and processing wire and cable.

Innovative production technologies for tubes and tube processing will be on display at Tube 2014.

Constantly updated information can be retrieved from the Internet portals of both trade fairs at www.wire.de and www.Tube.de
